

AUSTRIA AND TURKEY ARE NO LONGER FACTORS IN WAR AND AUSTRIA ADMITS IT

TURKEY BEGS FOR PEACE LEAVING GERMANY ALONE

OHIO AND PENNSYLVANIA TROOPS ARE IN BIG DRIVE WITH ITALIANS AND BRITISH AGAINST AUSTRIAN ARMIES

SERBIANS APPROACHING BELGRADE

Both Austria and Turkey are through and admit it. Pressed by the Allied armies, and torn by internal dissension, Germany's two remaining tools are frantically begging for peace. Austria admits that her armies are being withdrawn from Italy and the Balkans.

Turkey has agreed to the armistice and is now definitely out of the war. This was learned today in London following the receipt of semi-official dispatches. Turkey is said to have begged for peace on terms equivalent to unconditional surrender. These, it is said, include the policing of Turkey by Allied troops, opening of the Dardanelles to Allied naval forces and the punishment of all citizens who are guilty of acts of uncivilized warfare.

Allied troops are assisting and greatly hurrying the withdrawal.

Germany in a military way is thus isolated. Marshal Foch's terms for an armistice are reported in Zurich dispatches to have been delivered in Berlin on Tuesday.

Germany's armies on the western front are still desperately resisting the Allied pressure. Their lines have been practically staggering for nearly a week.

The Austrian army on the Italian front, despite the Vienna assurance that they are being withdrawn voluntarily, apparently are still resisting.

The Austrian war office admits a complete break-through on the Piave front on both sides of the Montello plateau. The great Austrian bases of Asiago and Durazzo have been captured.

Italian, British, French, and American troops are attacking on a front of nearly 80 miles from the Asiago to the Adriatic and have advanced 15 miles beyond the Piave.

General Treat's command which constitutes the National Army from Ohio was reported in United Press dispatches to be on the Italian front today in contact with the fleeing Austrians.

In the Balkans the Austrian army has retired completely from the southern bank of the Danube. Information from Belgrade, the former Serbian capital, says that it is being evacuated. They are retiring from both the Save and the Trina rivers, which form the northwest border of Serbia.

Serbian cavalry on the Danube is reported to be within 22 miles of Belgrade. Occupancy of that city is expected hourly.

The British in Mesopotamia have penetrated the Turkish lines south of Mosul, trapping thousands of the enemy, and are within 45 miles of that important base.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Confirmation of the reported dispatch of Marshal Foch's terms to Berlin was lacking at both the War and State Departments today. They might well have been sent but publication of the fact is withheld until receipt of acknowledgment from Berlin.

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Conversation between members of the Inter-Allied council diplomats continued today at Col. House's headquarters. Allied representatives called there and remained some time.

TAFT AND TEDDY REPLY TO APPEAL OF THE PRESIDENT

New York, Oct. 31.—Urging the election of Republican congressmen, Ex-President Roosevelt and Ex-President Taft, today issued a joint signed statement in reply to the appeal of President Wilson for the election of Democratic congressmen.

The statement which was made public by the Republican National committee last night, said the present peace conversation with Germany and declared "the President has indicated a willingness to make peace by negotiations."

"He did not term it, as he might have done in three words, that the American people demanded unconditional surrender."

Roosevelt and Taft declared the war was being fought to suppress one man control. President Wilson's fourteen peace terms were called general and vague and fear was expressed that they would not lead to a real peace treaty.

Turkish Armistice Signed at Noon Today

An armistice was signed at Salonika at noon today. The terms laid down by the victorious British commanders and accepted by Turkey were such that the Ottoman Empire will be unable to resume hostilities.

Turkey's surrender was unconditional. The Turkish army in Mesopotamia surrendered this afternoon.

Late reports from London stated that the Dardanelles was opened to the Allies at 6:30 this morning. Only one entire division, the part of two armies, the miserable remnants of the Turkish forces that fought in Mesopotamia surrendered to General Marshall, the British commander.

Austria's fall is being hastened by the Italian and Allied forces.

The Austrian army independently sued for an armistice this afternoon. The appeal was forwarded by General Diaz to the Allied conference at Versailles.

INFLUENZA CLAIMED THREE VICTIMS AT HOSPITALS

More help is needed at the emergency hospitals. They need help in the kitchen and volunteers for nurse's aids as well. This is an emergency proposition and must be met promptly. Every patriotic humane citizen should be interested. Do not be selfishly satisfied to let your neighbor bear all the burden but do your share and your duty now. Don't wait. Call up John M. Urey, secretary of the board of health and offer your services. They are badly needed. Those already bearing your burden are being overworked and need your help.

There were very few new cases of influenza in Clearfield yesterday and it looks very much now as though the onset of the disease has been effectually checked and the beginning of the end of the epidemic in this community is in sight. However it will not do to relax the most careful vigilance even for a minute until all danger is a thing of the past.

Our experience here is the common experience of every community affected and while there were three deaths at the emergency hospitals last evening and early this morning there is no occasion for undue alarm. This sad outcome was but the usual exacting toll of the disease and serves to bring home to our people what the health authorities, local, state and federal, have told us from the outbreak of the disease here.

We were told from the beginning that we could surely count upon at least 15 per cent. of our population being affected and a consequent death rate of from one to two per cent and an increase of six and one-half per cent over the normal death rate. Those figures have maintained throughout the country and are just what we can expect and are experiencing.

Now that the disease is subsiding the danger rests with those who succumbed to it while it was raging. It is now up to convalescents themselves. Obey instructions of doctors and nurses to the letter and save your life. The influenza in itself is not so serious except that it weakens the system to such an extent that when pneumonia develops as is so often the case, very little vitality is left to combat the new terror and medical aid appears to be powerless to offset its ravages.

The deaths of County Superintendent C. A. Weisgarber, Superintendent of Graeflin, of the Silk Mill and Mrs. Andrew Powell, of Woodland, all of whom died at the emergency hospitals during the past twenty-four hours were all caused by pneumonia which developed after the patient had apparently recovered from the influenza.

PROCLAMATION OF THE BURGESS

The funeral of Mrs. R. K. Clee, who died a martyr in the service of this community, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Believing that the supreme sacrifice made by this good woman in the interest of the public welfare is worthy of public recognition, I therefore request all business places to close during the time of the funeral or from 2:30 to 3:30 o'clock, Friday afternoon.

ently begun to recover from the influenza.

There is an unusual situation at St. Mary's, Pa. Yesterday the City Editor of the Ridgway Daily Record telegraphed Dr. Royer at Harrisburg and asked that State troops be sent to St. Mary's for the purpose of enforcing the quarantine regulations and isolating the foreign quarter of the town. This action was taken, we are informed, because of the belief that some disease other than influenza is ravaging that town, as the bodies of the victims are said to turn black immediately after death.

The influenza situation in DuBois yesterday stood just about stationary. The number of deaths showed no increase and the number of new cases was just about the same. City Physician Ginter was indisposed himself yesterday and was not in close touch with the situation, but he stated last evening that all of the doctors but two had reported, giving a total of 40 new cases. This means that there are about 50 new cases in this vicinity, about the same number as the day before. This does not indicate any decided turn for the worse in the situation locally, but is not quite so satisfactory as the health authorities would like to see. It is expected that during the remaining days of the week that the number of new cases will decline. Doctors are again requested by the health authorities to report each day, so that an accurate estimate of the situation can be formed.

There were six deaths in DuBois and immediate vicinity today.

The influenza situation at Surveyor remains quite satisfactory today according to word received from there at noon. There have been no deaths the past couple of days.

There was one more death at Grampan yesterday. Miss Eva Stuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stuller, aged about 11 years, passed away about noon.

There were a few new cases reported yesterday and the county committee on public defense is assisting the local authorities in fighting the disease. Chairman Woodward sent a quantity of quarantine cards up this morning and will soon be distributing them.

ALL REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES ARE SURE OF WINNING

The appeal of the President to the people of the nation to support his policies has been the means of stimulating interest in a political campaign which otherwise would have passed away with little more than casual notice. People have been so engrossed with the last Liberty Loan, the influenza epidemic and the daily reports from the European battle fields that they refuse to take any active interest in an election of any kind. This regrettable situation comes about, not through a failure to understand the importance of selecting good men for public office, but rather because everyone is so busy that they have little time to discuss political affairs.

Members of the Republican party who have, without exception backed up every real war measure advocated by the President and who have responded most liberally in the various money raising campaigns naturally feel insulted that the President should call upon the people of the United States to return only the Democrats to public office. Thousands upon thousands of these men have been making sacrifices equal and in many cases exceeding those of their Democratic fellow citizens and it is generally felt that there was no call at this time for such action, especially in view of the fact that many of the President's most far reaching war measures were advocated and made laws by the help and at the insistence of Republican congressmen.

While Mr. Wilson's appeal applied to Congress rather than to any other offices the effect of the appeal, if it has any effect, will be to hinder the election of Republicans to state offices, as well as to Congress. The appeal was, in effect, an appeal to the people to vote a straight Democratic ticket regardless of whose names were thereon. Such a course would not be possible with the majority of the Pennsylvania Democrats because in so doing they must vote for Bonnell as governor.

Republican leaders look upon the President's appeal as being one of the big factors that will result in an overwhelming Republican vote at the polls next Tuesday. Republicans believe in their candidates and are rallying are among the sufferers.

Winburre has created a local board of health, established a quarantine and curfew and is taking every possible means to guard against a possible outbreak there. They have but one or two cases in the town.

The situation remains satisfactory at Woodland.

AUSTRIANS EVACUATING FROM ALL ITALIAN SOIL

GERMANY'S CHIEF ALLY HASTENS WITHDRAWAL IN ANTICIPATION OF ARMISTICE SHE SEEKS

45,000 OF HER MEN CAPTURED

Austria quickened its step in anticipation of an armistice today while Allied forces on all fronts were hammering its armies to bits. Austria is evacuating all of the Italian soil she now holds.

"In view of our oft expressed resolution to bring about a conclusion of an armistice and peace, our troops fighting on Italian soil are evacuating occupied regions," the Vienna dispatch said.

Another dispatch from Vienna via Milan, Italy, says "that the Polish government at Warsaw has been advised that Austria notified the military and civil authorities that Poland is entirely in the hands of the Poles." Austrian troops will be withdrawn at once, it was stated.

Czech revolutionists are reported to have cut the railway between Berlin and Vienna via Orderburg and Bodenbach. Communications between Agram, Budapest, Fiume and Vienna have been severed, it was said.

LONDON, 2:10 p. m.—The Italians have extended their offensive along the whole Austro-Italian front according to cables received here this afternoon. Prisoners exceeded 45,000 and big guns captured number 300.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Anarchy is growing in Hungary according to reports received from various sources today. The populace of Barcz is fleeing into the interior fearing a clash between the Croats and the Hungarians. Thousands of deserters are rampant along the frontier, plundering, attacking trains and committing other outrages.

ALLIES NEAR GHENT

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN THE FIELD, Oct. 31.—French and British forces this morning were within sight of Ghent. The Allies were last reported 4 miles from Ghent which is the principal Belgian railway base remaining in German hands west of Brussels and Antwerp.

ANOTHER CLEARFIELD CO. SUPERINTENDENT BOY "GONE WEST" WEISGARBER DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Another sturdy son of old Clearfield has been called upon to make the supreme sacrifice for his country and laid down his life facing the foe gloriously in action at the head of his platoon of machine gunners. This latest Clearfield patriot was Sergeant Hayes Wilson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wilson, of Sixth street. He enlisted in the Boal Machine Gun company about the time of the declaration of war and received his training with the Keystone division at Augusta, Georgia. He went to France as a member of Co. A 107th Machine Gun Regiment.

News of the death of this fine young soldier was received in Clearfield yesterday in a letter to home folks by Walter Barratt, who was with him when he was killed.

In his letter Barratt says "I suppose Hayes Wilson's parents have heard by this time of Hayes' death. On the morning of October 1st we were ordered out to stop a Hun counter attack and a few minutes after getting into action Hayes was killed while leading his platoon in the battle."

Hayes Wilson was born and raised in Clearfield and was about 25 years of age. He was a fine young man of genial disposition and numbered all who knew him as his friends. His family have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their time of sorrow.

He is the second member of the Eik-Hoe company to die in the service. In 1914 he was elected county superintendent of schools to succeed Prof. W. E. Tobias and made an enviable record in the office. He was re-elected for a four year term in May last. He is survived by his widow and two small children.

The late Czar of Russia had a dragon tattooed on his left forearm, and quite a number of other European royalties, both past and present, have been similarly "decorated."

In olden times, when men kissed, each took hold of the other's hand during the operation.

PROBLEMS WE MUST FACE

"Problems that loom large on the horizon of our national life are problems of reconstruction. In spite of procrastination, inefficiency, and wastefulness manifested in every stage of our preparation for and participation in the war, the war is about to be won. Following that victory the United States will enter upon a period of peace handicapped in many ways in the commercial rivalry that must surely come.

"We are a creditor nation and the debtor nations desire to pay us with goods rather than gold—and manufactured goods at that. We have established and must maintain the highest standard of living known in any nation. We pay the highest wages, observe the shortest hours, place most restrictions upon child labor, insist upon the most sanitary conditions in factories and shops, and are determined that our workers shall continue to be the best fed, the best clothed and the best housed of any workers on the face of the globe. With other nations offering us goods produced by cheaper labor, we are threatened with repetition of the conditions that wrought havoc to American industry in 1893 and 1912-14. If left in a position to control the economic policies of the nation after the return of peace, the Democratic party will bring on once more the industrial ruin and commercial disaster which are yet so fresh in the memories of our people.

"The Republican party has ever been the path of constructiveness. We have before us the task of determining what shall be done with our costly merchant marine, our railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, our returned soldiers. We must restore government by law in the place of that government by men which has been set up during the past six years. We must put an end to socialism, extravagance, wastefulness and inefficiency.

In the accomplishment of this the first step is obviously the ousting from power of that party which delayed preparedness and bungled it after it was begun—the party that fosters socialism and had never been sound on economic problems—the party that must continue to be sectional when the needs of the nation demand a broad, constructive nationalism. Vote the straight Republican ticket."

AMERICA'S PLEDGE

The interallied council sat last summer planning those measures which meant victory in 1919 for the cause of freedom. Food was a vital factor.

The United States of America by its representatives gave them this assurance:

Determine what you must have and how much the ships can carry.

That will be your quota through the coming year. You need not consider how much America has more or less. We will send it; we have it or we will find it.

America, which shipped last year 140,000,000 bushels of wheat where a surplus of only 10,000,000 could be reckoned, had given its pledge. The allies believe in us. They trust us as they trust the American soldiers. They have faith in the endurance of the American people for self-denial, as they have faith in the courage of the American Army in reserve or in battle.

America will not fail them.

PROCLAMATION

Never in the history of the country has the menace of fire been greater, and the preservation of resources, natural and otherwise, more necessary. The abnormal strain upon production is in itself an element of fire hazard, while the activities of hostile incendiaries threaten in many parts of the country, causing the destruction of needed supplies of food stuff and other vital staples. These fires will strike at the foundation of National power and wealth by the elimination of resources.

The fire loss throughout Pennsylvania as reported by the State Fire Marshal is unwarrantably heavy and must be recognized as a preventable evil. This calls for constant and especial effort on the part of our people, that under war time conditions we may use every endeavor for its elimination. This can be accomplished. It becomes the imperative public duty of all our people to assist in the prevention of fire by the removal of all dangerous conditions.

As a means of arousing our citizens to the magnitude of the fire waste and showing their individual responsibility, and inducing them to take more interest in the subject of Fire Prevention, I do designate and set aside and that said day be observed by our people by a general cleaning up and removal of all rubbish, trash and waste from the premises.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1918
FIRE PREVENTION DAY

That all heating apparatus and chimneys be carefully gone over and placed in proper condition for winter use.

That all public and private institutions, flour mills, food storages, manufacturing plants, hotels, factories, theatres and all other buildings be carefully inspected and necessary improvements be made that will further protect the property and safety of the occupants and contents.

That local authorities give attention to the matter of better building regulations, Fire Protection and Prevention, as well as better and increased apparatus for fire fighting.

That Fire Drills be held in all public or private schools, public or private institutions and that instructions be given in Fire Prevention and Fire Protection.

GIVEN under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the City of Harrisburg, this sixteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and forty-third.

By the Governor: MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.
CYRUS E. WOODS, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

U. S. TAKES BEST CARE OF WOUNDED

America's sick and wounded soldiers abroad are the best attended troops in the world. This was the message brought home recently by the new Surgeon General of the Army, Merritt W. Ireland, on his arrival aboard a British transport which brought 700 passengers, most of them women and children. Gen. Ireland returned one year and five months to a day after his departure with Gen. Pershing for France, where he has been in our medical corps since the American forces.

"Including sick and wounded, our sick rate is forty three per 1000 men," said Gen. Ireland. "The average of diseases is only 2 per cent., or 20 men out of 1,000, which compares most favorably with the records of large cities.

"Though we have virulent epidemics of Spanish influenza and pneumonia it has not been as severe as in the United States, and has scarcely attacked the troops at the actual front. We have the situation well under control now.

"Though our facilities are sufficient we are still lacking in personnel. We need more nurses and more physicians. We have in our medical corps the cream of the profession. We have the best medical and surgical experts in the world with us. No army is treated so well in that regard as the American.

"We have Brig. Gen. John M. T. Finney of Johns Hopkins who has done marvelous work at the surgical staff, Col. Joel Goldthwaite of Boston is the orthopaedic chief; Brig. Gen. W. S. Thayer of Johns Hopkins is the medical head and Col. T. W. Salmon is in charge of the division of mental disorders. Our sick and wounded soldiers receive every possible expert attention.

"In fact Finney asked me to take home to the American people his message that all was going superbly.

"No country of the world has such a high standard of nursing for its troops as the United States. No country on the face of the earth demands that its soldiers be cared for as does the United States. We have been able to meet that standard completely through the excellent grade of work done by our American women as nurses.

"The thing that impresses me most is that when men get to France they absolutely lose all selfishness. They forget self entirely in their great purpose of winning the war. That is the only thing they have in mind.

"Take our soldiers who have been wounded and torn to pieces in battle. They get to the hospitals in deplorable condition, but always smiling gamely always laughing cheerfully. Their spirit is magnificent.

"And among the best of our troops must be accounted the drafted men. An why not? They are from among us, just as the regulars. The world never has gotten together such a magnificent body of men as the draft divisions now in France."

ARRIVED OVERSEAS

Mayor John M. Chase, received a card yesterday which announced that his son Ben F. Chase, Jr., a member of the U. S. marines had arrived safely overseas.

Mrs. Harry Riddle has been advised that her son Joseph has arrived overseas.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat

When you wake up with backache and find that the kidneys are generally weak, you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms the acid filter of the body and the kidneys are the filter of the blood. When you eat too much meat, the kidneys are overworked and the blood is not properly filtered. This causes backache and other ailments. To keep the kidneys in good condition, it is necessary to eat a diet of fruits and vegetables, which are rich in salts. These salts help the kidneys to filter the blood properly and prevent the accumulation of acids in the body. If you suffer from backache, it is a sign that your kidneys are weak and you should take salts to strengthen them.

To Prevent The Spread of Influenza

The Board of Health advises that all rooms be well ventilated.

Drafts should be avoided.

To get fresh air without drafts, use Sanitary Cloth Window Screens. They keep out drafts, but let fresh air come in. They keep out dust, dirt and rain.

These are inexpensive.

You should have them in all your windows.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to have an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste. For the system only the blood. Just as every drop of blood leaves behind a certain amount of carbon acids material in the form of waste, so the body must eliminate this waste. A quarter pound of lime stone phosphate costs very little at these drug stores, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanse, purify and freshen the skin on the outside so hot water and lime stone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal system is vastly more important than outside cleanliness because the skin pores do not absorb lime stone phosphate. The skin pores do not absorb lime stone phosphate. The skin pores do not absorb lime stone phosphate. Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.

A REPUBLICAN CONGRESS A WAR NECESSITY

Democratic party leaders, both in action and frame of mind were totally and criminally unprepared for the great war which inevitably was to come upon the United States. The warnings of the Republican leaders were answered by Woodrow Wilson himself in his message to Congress of December 8th, 1914, as follows:

"More than this (unpreparedness for national defense) "proposed at this time, permit me to say, would mean merely that we had lost our self-possession; that we had been thrown off our balance by a WAR WITH THICH WE HAVE NOTHING TO DO, WHOSE CAUSE CANNOT TOUCH US, whose very existence gives us opportunities for friendship and disinterested service which should make impossible to us any hostile preparation for trouble."

Later they professed their mistake, begged of the American people to be for it. They appealed to the American for unheard of sums of money with which to rush a military preparation which would keep us safe from the beastly Hun. This acknowledgment of error was made by Vice President Marshall four years later, September 1918, as follows:

"I came here partly to make an apology, apology for my attitude during almost two years and a half of that fateful conflict, an apology from a God-fearing man in the twentieth century of civilization could have dreamed that any nation, people or any man could be neutral when it was fighting with wrong."

FACTS

Showing the Absolute Necessity of Electing a Republican Congress To Take Care of Both Present and Future Conditions

"Republicans have supported and will support President Wilson in every proposal looking to the successful prosecution of the war and an early and conclusive victory, with the least possible expenditure of lives and money.

"Every criticism of the war program, executive as well as legislative, that Republicans have uttered, and every proposal they have made affecting the conduct of the war, has been inspired by the thought of saving men and resources.

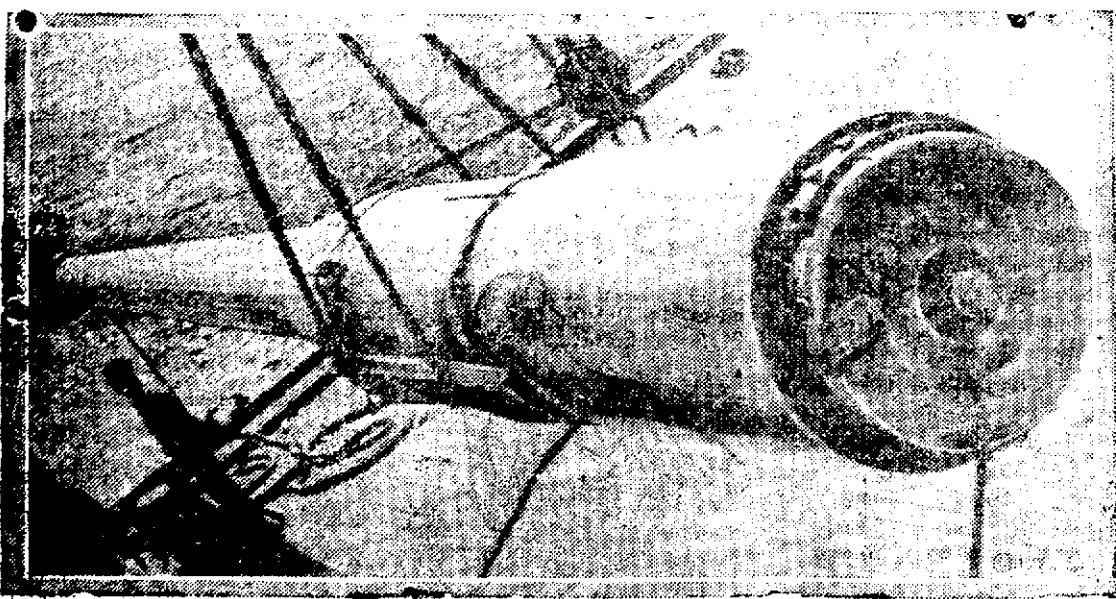

"Rejection of Republican proposals urging greater preparedness for war have prolonged the present struggle: A sterner course following the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine, especially in the diplomatic correspondence following that crime against America and all humanity would have shortened the war.

"Lack of preparedness and consequent haste necessary to enlarge the army and navy, plus Democratic inefficiency, emphasis on legislative leadership, have made waste and extravagance inevitable, all of which is proven by evidence.

"The vast resources of America, which have turned the tide of war toward America and her allies, were built up under Republican administration. Republican principles therefore will insure the improvement and maintenance of these resources when the coming problem of reconstruction is confronted.

"A Democratic Congress will not meet these reconstruction problems at the logical time---in advance. A Republican Congress will do this, and is better equipped than a Democratic Congress for the task."

OBITUARY

Raymond Austin Derrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Derrick, of Weaver street, died of pneumonia following an attack of influenza, at the emergency hospital on Monday, October 28, 1918, at noon in the 17th year of his age. He was a sturdy, industrious young man who made friends of all with whom he came in contact. His death was a sad blow to his family and friends.

He is survived by his parents, three brothers and three sisters, all residing in Clearfield. Funeral services conducted by Rev. Snively of the West Side M. E. church, were held at his father's home Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment at Mt. Joy.

SPEAKING OF MEAN SUCKERS

Pennsylvania's meanest man is employed by the United States Federal Express company along the Pennsylvania railroad between Philadelphia and Clearfield. The Vulcan Trading Company contributed two boxes of oranges to the emergency hospital's influenza patients and the much-desired fruit arrived in Clearfield yesterday. W. J. Usher, of the Vulcan Trading Co., looked the fruit over upon its arrival and we would like very much to print what Bill said when he discovered that some low-down, chicken-livered son-of-a-gun had robbed the suffering of the fruit they craved by stealing at least one-fourth of the contents of one box. Regulations and regulations in the postal service these days and we can't print what we would like to but Bill will tell it to you. And we are only too sorry he can't locate the low-down thief to tell it to him.

OUR
WALLACETON

Our little town has been very fortunate in the flu epidemic. We have had a few cases but none of them have proven fatal. We sympathize with our neighboring towns who have a siege of this disease.

Election day is drawing near when we can pick our choice of candidates.

William Bigler of Clearfield, district superintendent over our town's brick works had business here Monday.

Miss Vivian Shimmel is a new addition on the clerical force of C. I. Wolfe's general merchandise store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Washburn, of Munson, motored to our city Sunday.

Harvey Fetzner has moved his family here from Blue Ball.

Jacob Duck has moved his family here from Morrisdale. He is employed at the H. W. Ref. Co. brick works.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Woods, of Ronoke, Va., Mrs. W. A. Bennett and Samuel Smith, of Jersey Shore were recent visitors to our city.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bottorf and sons of Surveyor motored up here on Sunday.

House cleaning and the beating of carpets is on the hum.

Wesley Little of Blue Ball autoed through our city on Wednesday.

The epidemic of Spanish flu has struck our little town. The families of John and Alex Quick, E. K. Good, Wilson Good, James Shaw, Thomas Hollabaugh and a few others have been sick from attacks of this malady. In some cases the entire families have been sick, but no deaths have resulted so far. The patients are receiving medical attention from Drs. Woodside, of Bigler, Mauk, Shively and Faulkner, of Woodland, Buzard, of Munson and Dale, of Philipsburg. We learn all of the sick are slowly convalescing.

"Y" Becomes Biggest Vaudeville Booking Agency in the World

Supplies Free Entertainment for Soldiers in Training Throughout the Country—Jugglers and Former Presidents, Bishops and Clog Dancers, Grand Opera Stars and Blackface Comedians Are All Jumbled Together on Programs.

ANY booking agency able to route over its chain of theatres such "acts" as Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President of the United States, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., William H. Taft, Mrs. Louise Homer and others on the entertainment and educational routes of the Eastern War Council of the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A., would proclaim all over the world that it was the biggest booking agency on earth and handled the greatest "talent" obtainable. Yet the Red Triangle has gone quietly ahead and in the space of half a year has built up an organization that sends 1,200 "acts" a month to the training camps, aviation fields, forts, navy yards, battlefields, etc., to entertain and instruct our soldiers, sailors and marines. In that time the office personnel to handle the bookings has increased from two to fifteen, three of whom are volunteers.

ATTRACTIONS ARE VARIED

In the Y. M. C. A. booking office's roster of attractions appear such other names as Charles S. Whitman, governor of New York; the French military band recently sent here by the French government; Augustus Thomas, dean of American dramatists; Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia; John G. Hylan, president of Princeton; Miss Helen Cowell, famous American violinist; Countess Tureznowicz, the National Quartette, the Orpheus Fock, John Massello, Major Bohme, Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, Ralph S. Dean S. Wise, Dr. G. N. Shutter, Dr. John Watson, Bishop Luther B. Wilson, S. S. McClure, Job Hedges, Rev. Charles A. Eaton, Jack Rose, E. M. Beck and many others.

All departments of the Y. M. C. A. corresponding to the military departments of the country are booking attractions for the camps in their districts, but the Eastern Department being the centre of things theatrical as well as the seat of the greatest talent, books by far the greatest number of attractions. The camps here also serve as "dog towns" on which the "Y" turns out the "acts" that volunteer to go to France. A vaudeville "turn" must first make good in that department before being sent abroad.

MUST AMUSE SOLDIERS

Clean, high class entertainment has recently come to be regarded as a necessity for the man with the colors. It keeps him amused and entertained in his leisure hours—hour of life in the afternoon and "taps" and away from associations that might tend to undermine his morals or his physical strength. It also keeps his morale up to a high pitch and in this belief the Red Triangle has turned over to the government the task of instructing and entertaining the man in uniform as well as ministering to his spiritual needs when he makes request for it.

The monthly "turn-over" of this booking office is 800 motion pictures, 200 religious speakers, 125 entertainers and seventy-five lecturers. Richard H. Edwards, Secretary for Activities and Walter V. Berry, his Associate Secretary, are responsible for the building up of the booking office and its success. All of the talent volunteer their services and receive no pay. Many pay all of their expenses, others all but their railway fare. The Red Triangle, however, pays the living expenses of most of them.

GET LOCAL ATMOSPHERE

An entertainer booked on the camp circuit is expected to do more than just give his "act." The "Y" expects him to teach men in the camps who are gifted musically or histrionically some act which they can do later to entertain their fellow soldiers when the professional actor can't reach them. The entertainers are encouraged to live with the boys in the camps, become saturated with camp local atmosphere and learn just what the boys like most in the way of entertainment.

The wishes and tastes of the men in camp are consulted. Every month the camp Secretary fills out on a requisition blank of the talent as his camp needs for that month. If the boys have liked a stage act or a lecture especially and want to hear it again, the secretary notes the request and the booking office tries its best to comply with it. The camp Secretary has the right to reject any act booked for his camp.

RESULTS CHECKED UP

The office keeps a record of every act booked. The camp Secretary reports back to Mr. Richards on the quality of each act, lecture or sermon and whether the boys were satisfied with it or not. The "talent" also reports on the camp, the service being done there and the progress of the Secretary of Activities. The Secretary of Activities reports what the other person should know and sends it to him. It has been ascertained that lecturers and entertainers are eager to learn what they can do to please their hearers better and welcome suggestions from the camp Secretaries.

An especially interesting feature of the work is booking entertainers, etc., for the warships that arrive in port. The Fleet Secretary gets from the Navy Department the date on which a warship will arrive and before it anchors, entertainers are ready to board the vessel.

WE NEED TO GUARD AMERICAN BUILT RAILWAYS A BIG FACTOR IN WAR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—German agents are still about, eager to gather scraps of news about our men, our ships, our munition plants. It is still possible to get such information thru to Germany, where thousands of these fragments—often individually harmless—are patiently pieced together into a whole which spells death to our soldiers.

But while the enemy is most industrious in trying to collect information, and his systems elaborate, he is no superman—indeed, he is often very stupid, and would far to get what he wants were it not deliberately handed to him by the carelessness of loyal men and women.

It would be well for every American to observe the following rules:

Do not discuss in public, or with strangers, any news of troop and transport movements, or bits of gossip as to military preparations, which come into your possession.

Do not permit your soldier or sailor friend to tell you "inside" facts about where he is, what he is doing and seeing.

And, what is equally important, do not become a tool of the Hun by passing on the malicious rumors which he so eagerly sows. Remember he asks no better service than to have you spread his lies of disasters to the American soldiers and sailors, gross scandal in the Red Cross, cruelties, neglect, and wholesale executions in camps, drunkenness and vice in the Expeditionary forces, and other tales certain to disturb patriots and to bring anxiety and grief to parents.

And do not wait until you catch someone putting a bomb under a factory! Report the man who spreads pessimistic stories, or divulges—or seeks—confidential military information.

Give all the details you can, with names of witnesses if possible—show the Hun that the American can beat him at his own game of collecting scattered information and putting it to work.

to their support because of the reflection that has been placed upon them by the President. The majority of Clearfield County Republicans have fully made up their minds that there are going to be very few split tickets. Jones, for Congress, Miller for the State Senate, and Miller, Pidgeon and Phillips for the Legislature, leave nothing to be desired from any standpoint.

A great many things have operated against most of these men making an extensive canvass in the county but in view of transpired events it is believed that no canvass is necessary.

Mr. Jones, made a profound impression in his primary campaign and has been unable to spend but little time here in the present campaign. He left this county last week after a short trip and will not return. The reception that was accorded him everywhere was sufficient on which to base the prediction that he will be a big winner next Tuesday.

Dr. S. J. Miller candidate for the State Senate, is patriotically staying at home and attending to the duties of his profession in taking care of the influenza patients in his community and will not get a chance to make any campaigning at all. However, Dr. Miller's friends are very active in his behalf and there is no doubt about his being returned to his seat in the State Senate.

Dr. Arthur H. Pidgeon, of Houtzdale has been confined thru illness for work of our war government, carrying to his bed with no hopes of recovering in time to see any of the voters. The fact that Dr. Pidgeon is out to this disadvantage will only serve to stimulate his friends to action and in all parts of the county they will see that Dr. Pidgeon is not neglected.

D. D. Miller, of Grapian is the only Republican candidate who is enabled to make a campaign and yet should most certainly be rewarded by a reelection to the Legislature. No one because of the prevailing influenza epidemic can dispute the fact that in real work where Dr. Miller is best known has done as much as any man in the county for his community. A son of Col. Clearfield county is furthering the cause of the 10th Reg. of our war government, carrying on his father's place in the community. He is now in the line of duty of the 10th Reg. of our war government, carrying on his father's place in the community. With the American army in France, Oct. 3 (By Mail)—The American railway engineers played an important role in the battle of St. Mihiel sector. They didn't get out and take Germans, but they made it possible for others to do so.

All up and down the American front there is a network of narrow-gauged railways, running to every point along the front, and connecting the fighters with their bases in the rear.

The Americans have developed railway building along the front to a high degree of efficiency. They can lay a track through a wood or across a field in almost no time, and soon little engines specially built for the front are chugging along dragging strings of cars loaded with shells, food and other things the doughboys need.

The little trains look like toys, they are so small, but they do the work of full grown railway outfits. They carry enormous loads and wind along through fields, woods, roads and villages with great speed. There isn't any bloey system to keep trains from meeting along the way, but somehow these American railway engineers keep lots of trains going all the time with seldom any congestion.

Switches and sidings help keep roads clear. These are frequent as the healthy foot of the little American locomotives. The foot is modeled after that of a full grown Baldwin, and is a sound which delights the doughboys. Americans never have liked the frantic squeak they put on French locomotives instead of a whistle.

Railways of this type are necessary to connect the rail heads of big wide gauged railroads with the front. Supplies come surprisingly near the front on the big railways. From their stopping places auto trucks and narrow gauges carry stuff to fighting range.

Ordinary roads often are crowded, and in rainy weather are hard to make speed over. The little narrow gauge trains run all the time to relieve traffic doing most of the work at night. They are quickly repaired when blown up, and are extended in few hours.

Following the recent advance of the doughboys across No Man's Land, the railway engineers soon had their tracks laid and puffing little engines dragged chains of cars loaded with necessary supplies over to the infantry and artillery.

Once across No Man's Land the engineers were able to hook onto the rails left by the fleeing Germans, and the American had a fairly extensive temporary system already laid out for them. They used captured German engines and cars, too, temporarily. But the boche rolling stock did not compare to the cars marked "U. S. A."

A great many of the railway engineers are former railroad men who have come into the army. Their knowledge of railroading and their familiarity with speedy construction and operation of railroads learned in "the States" made them old hands at the transportation end of the army.

MRS. ANDREW POWELL

Mrs. Andrew Powell, a well known Woodland resident who had been a patient at the emergency hospital for the past ten days suffering from pneumonia following an attack of influenza, was relieved of her suffering by death about 5 o'clock yesterday evening. Mrs. Powell was about 55 years of age and is survived by her husband, who is also a patient at the emergency hospital in a very serious condition from the same disease.

The school board for Penn town has. As a business man Mr. Miller has all of the qualifications for the office of State Legislature and will always be found working for the kind of legislation that is most needed and most desired by the people of such a community as Clearfield county.

Joseph E. Phillips is at present assisting in the work of keeping down the influenza epidemic in Clearfield and will no doubt be tied up with this work until after election day. His untiring efforts in behalf of the people of this community in this epidemic are of the various war campaigns. A reflection to the Legislature. No one because of the prevailing influenza epidemic can dispute the fact that in real work where Dr. Miller is best known has done as much as any man in the county for his community. A son of Col. LEONARDSON'S Dainty Georgette Blouses Special at $5.95

The cost of a woman's suit is so considerable that she wants to get the most out of it in service and becomingness. So she must have at least one georgette blouse that will be particularly becoming when worn with her suit. The blouses are of a superior, soft silk; the style shows pin tucking at the sides and hand embroidery. The slipover blouses have effective trimming and a new round neck idea. Also a waist of crepe-de-chine are included in this lot. Other Georgette crepe and crepe-de-chine waists priced from $6.95 to $16.50.

See the new "Peter Pan" waists at $2.50 and $3.50.

GLEANING FROM SOLDIER'S LETTERS

LETTER FROM W. H. McCRAKEN

W. H. McCracken in a letter to friends gives an interesting insight into conditions as he finds them in France, which he says can't hold a candle to the dear old U. S. A. He is in the artillery and assisted in the demonstration of some new American ordnance before a board of allied officers. He says he is now on his way to the front and anxious to get there. On his way up his regiment ran into a field meet of the British army and Mac showed our British cousins how a Clearfield county boy could run by taking second place in a field of some forty runners.

He was in Paris during an attempted daylight raid and speaks of traveling along the Marne and the Aisne rivers, neither of which he says is very large, being about three times as wide as the Susquehanna at Ball's Landing. The soldiers are not allowed to buy a thing from the civilian population in the district he is in for some reason or other. The fruit crop is poor and he says he has had but two good apples since leaving Pennsylvania.

They were well some U. S. tobacco from a fund started at DuBois. He had been attached to the British army but is in an all American outfit now, and saw Carlisle Mahaffey, another Clearfield county boy.

LETTER FROM DONALD ROBINSON

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Robinson, of South Second street received the following letter from their son, Corporal Donald H. Robinson:

Somewhere in France, Oct. 12, 1915.

Dear Parents:

Just a few lines to let you know I have not forgotten you. It is quite a while since I wrote, but I have good reasons for not writing. I have been in a place I couldn't mail letters, and then we were in a drive and I was wounded, and am at the present time in a Base Hospital. But do not worry any about me for I am getting good care through the Red Cross nurses and am getting along fine. My wounds dressed every day.

I suppose I will be in the hospital yet for Christmas but I will be treated better than if I were with the company. Believe me they take care of you properly and are particular about dressing your wounds.

Things look pretty fair for us to get back to U. S. before long. Peace is pretty close now. Germany is crying for peace but the American boys are giving them plenty. They don't believe in taking prisoners; we would sooner shoot them all down.

Well, I got a card from you for the time. An answer soon as you can.

ANOTHER DUBOIS YOUNG MAN IS KILLED IN ACTION

Mr. and Mrs. Harry O'Brien received word last evening that their son, Ernie O'Brien, had been killed in action on September 28th. This sad news was conveyed in a message from the War Department. It meant that another DuBois young man has been called upon to make the supreme sacrifice on the bloody fields of France.

Sergeant O'Brien, although he had not lived in DuBois for the past six or seven years, was a young man well known here. He was a graduate of the DuBois high school and lived the greater part of his life in this city. About seven years ago he left the city and went west.

COURT NOTES

Suits were filed in the Prothonotary's office by R. D. Swoope, Esq., against Miss Mabel Hall of Mahaffey, for damages totaling $36,000. Three suits in all were brought. One is on behalf of Christian F. Kerner, Jr., who asks $10,000 damages for personal injuries sustained when struck and knocked down by an automobile owned and driven by Miss Hall while the plaintiff was crossing Atlantic avenue in Atlantic City on the evening of July 14, 1917. The plaintiff was hurt about the head, right eye and badly bruised about the body, being permanently injured, he alleges.

The other suits are in favor of Leona Heishner who was hurt at the same time and also wants $10,000 while an additional $10,000 is asked for Jewel Heishner and $5,000 more for her mother, Leona Heishner on account of the child's injuries.

The attorneys for the plaintiffs are John R. K. Scott and Joseph C. Marcus, of Philadelphia, and R. D. Swoope, of Curwensville.

With love to all,
Your loving son,

HEAD OF PLUSH MILL SUCCUMBS TO EPIDEMIC

C. F. Graeflin, who came to Clearfield a few months ago to succeed L. P. Geynet as superintendent of the silk mill of the Clearfield Textile Company, died about 2:30 o'clock this morning at the emergency hospital in the new high school building. His death was caused by pneumonia following an attack of influenza. Mr. Graeflin came to Clearfield from Allentown, Pa., and during his brief residence here made many friends. He was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife and two small children.

AUSTRIA AND TURKEY ARE NO LONGER
FACTORS IN WAR AND AUSTRIA ADMITS ITTURKEY BEGS FOR PEACE LEAVING GERMANY ALONEOHIO AND PENNSYLVANIA TROOPS ARE IN BIG DRIVE WITH ITALIANS AND BRITISH AGAINST AUSTRIAN ARMIES

SERBIANS APPROACHING BELGRADE

Both Austria and Turkey are through and admit it. Pressed by the Allied armies, and torn by internal dissension, Germany's two remaining tools are frantically begging for peace. Austria admits that her armies are being withdrawn from Italy and the Balkans.

Turkey has agreed to the armistice and is now definitely out of the war. This was learned today in London following the receipt of semi-official dispatches. Turkey is said to have begged for peace on terms equivalent to unconditional surrender. These, it is said, include the policing of Turkey by Allied troops, opening of the Dardanelles to Allied naval forces and the punishment of all citizens who are guilty of acts of uncivilized warfare.

Allied troops are assisting and greatly hurrying the withdrawal.

Germany in a military way is thus isolated. Marshal Foch's terms for an armistice are reported in Zurich dispatches to have been delivered in Berlin on Tuesday.

Germany's armies on the western front are still desperately resisting the Allied pressure. Their lines have been practically staggering for nearly a week.

The Austrian army on the Italian front, despite the Vienna assurance that they are being withdrawn voluntarily, apparently are still resisting.

The Austrian war office admits a complete break-through on the Piave front on both sides of the Montello plateau. The great Austrian bases of Asiago and Durazzo have been captured.

Italian, British, French, and American troops are attacking on a front of nearly 80 miles from the Asiago to the Adriatic and have advanced 15 miles beyond the Piave.

General Treat's command which constitutes the National Army from Ohio was reported in United Press dispatches to be on the Italian front today in contact with the fleeing Austrians.

In the Balkans the Austrian army has retired completely from the southern bank of the Danube. Information from Belgrade, the former Serbian capital, says that it is being evacuated. They are retiring from both the Save and the Trina rivers, which form the northwest border of Serbia.

Serbian cavalry on the Danube is reported to be within 22 miles of Belgrade. Occupancy of that city is expected hourly.

The British in Mesopotamia have penetrated the Turkish lines south of Mosul, trapping thousands of the enemy, and are within 45 miles of that important base.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Confirmation of the reported dispatch of Marshal Foch's terms to Berlin was lacking at both the War and State Departments today. They might well have been sent but publication of the fact is withheld until receipt of acknowledgment from Berlin.

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Conversation between members of the Inter-Allied council diplomats continued today at Col. House's headquarters. Allied representatives called there and remained some time.

TAFT AND TEDDY
REPLY TO APPEAL OF THE PRESIDENT

New York, Oct. 31.—Urging the election of Republican congressmen, Ex-President Roosevelt and Ex-President Taft, today issued a joint signed statement in reply to the appeal of President Wilson for the election of Democratic congressmen.

The statement which was made public by the Republican National committee last night, said the present peace conversation with Germany and declared "the President has indicated a willingness to make peace by negotiations."

"He did not term it, as he might have done in three words, that the American people demanded unconditional surrender."

Roosevelt and Taft declared the war was being fought to suppress one man control. President Wilson's fourteen peace terms were called general and vague and were expressed during the past twenty-four hours that they would not lead to a real peace treaty.

(By United Press)

Turkish Armistice Signed at Noon Today

An armistice was signed at Salonika at noon today. The terms laid down by the victorious British commanders and accepted by Turkey were such that the Ottoman Empire will be unable to resume hostilities.

Turkey's surrender was unconditional. The Turkish army in Mesopotamia surrendered this afternoon.

Late reports from London stated that the Dardanelles was opened to the Allies at 6:30 this morning. Only one entire division, the part of two armies, the miserable remnants of the Turkish forces that fought in Mesopotamia surrendered to General Marshall, the British commander.

Austria's fall is being hastened by the Italian and Allied forces.

The Austrian army independently sued for an armistice this afternoon. The appeal was forwarded by General Diaz to the Allied conference at Versailles.

INFLUENZA CLAIMED THREE VICTIMS AT HOSPITALS

More help is needed at the emergency hospitals. They need help in the kitchen and volunteers for nurse's aids as well. This is an emergency proposition and must be met promptly. Every patriotic humane citizen should be interested. Do not be selfishly satisfied to let your neighbor bear all the burden but do your share and your duty now. Don't wait. Call up John M. Urey, secretary of the board of health and offer your services. They are badly needed. Those already bearing your burden are being overworked and need your help.

There were very few new cases of influenza in Clearfield yesterday and it looks very much now as though the onset of the disease has been effectually checked and the beginning of the end of the epidemic in this community is in sight. However it will not do to relax the most careful vigilance even for a minute until all danger is a thing of the past.

Our experience here is the common experience of every community affected and while there were three deaths at the emergency hospitals last evening and early this morning there is no occasion for undue alarm. This sad outcome was but the usual exacting toll of the disease and serves to bring home to our people what the health authorities, local, state and federal, have told us from the outbreak of the disease here.

We were told from the beginning that we could surely count upon at least 15 per cent. of our population being affected and a consequent death rate of from one to two per cent and an increase of six and one-half per cent over the normal death rate. Those figures have maintained throughout the country and are just what we can expect and are experiencing.

Now that the disease is subsiding the danger rests with those who succumbed to it while it was raging. It is now up to convalescents themselves. Obey instructions of doctors and nurses to the letter and save your life. The influenza in itself is not so serious except that it weakens the system to such an extent that when pneumonia develops as is so often the case, very little vitality is left to combat the new terror and medical aid appears to be powerless to offset its ravages.

The deaths of County Superintendent C. A. Weisgarber, Superintendent of Graeflin, of the Silk Mill and Mrs. Andrew Powell, of Woodland, all of whom died at the emergency hospitals during the past twenty-four hours were all caused by pneumonia which developed after the patient had apparently recovered from the influenza.

PROCLAMATION OF THE BURGESSES

The funeral of Mrs. R. K. Clee, who died a martyr in the service of this community, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Believing that the supreme sacrifice made by this good woman in the interest of the public welfare is worthy of public recognition, I therefore request all business places to close during the time of the funeral or from 2:30 to 3:30 o'clock, Friday afternoon.

JOHN M. CHASE, Burgess
Clearfield, Pa., October 31, 1918

entirely begun to recover from the influenza.

There is an unusual situation at St. Mary's, Pa. Yesterday the City Editor of the Ridgway Daily Record telegraphed Dr. Royer at Harrisburg and asked that State troops be sent to St. Mary's for the purpose of enforcing the quarantine regulations and isolating the foreign quarter of the town. This action was taken, we are informed, because of the belief that some disease other than influenza is ravaging that town, as the bodies of the victims are said to turn black immediately after death.

The influenza situation in DuBois yesterday stood just about stationary. The number of deaths showed no increase and the number of new cases was just about the same. City Physician Ginter was indisposed himself yesterday and was not in close touch with the situation, but he stated last evening that all of the doctors but two had reported, giving a total of 40 new cases. This means that there are about 50 new cases in this vicinity, about the same number as the day before. This does not indicate any decided turn for the worse in the situation locally, but is not quite so satisfactory as the health authorities would like to see. It is expected that during the remaining days of the week that the number of new cases will decline. Doctors are again requested by the health authorities to report each day, so that an accurate estimate of the situation can be formed.

There were six deaths in DuBois and immediate vicinity today.

The influenza situation at Surveyor remains quite satisfactory today according to word received from there at noon. There have been no deaths the past couple of days.

There was one more death at Grampan yesterday. Miss Eva Stuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stuller, aged about 11 years, passed away about noon.

There were a few new cases reported yesterday and the county committee on public defense is assisting the local authorities in fighting the disease. Chairman Woodward sent a quantity of quarantine cards up this morning and will soon be distributing them.

ALL REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES ARE SURE OF WINNING

The appeal of the President to the people of the nation to support his policies has been the means of stimulating interest in a political campaign which otherwise would have passed away with little more than casual notice. People have been so engrossed with the last Liberty Loan, the influenza epidemic and the daily reports from the European battle fields that they refuse to take any active interest in an election of any kind. This regrettable situation comes about, not through a failure to understand the importance of selecting good men for public office, but rather because everyone is so busy that they have little time to discuss political affairs.

Members of the Republican party who have, without exception backed up every real war measure advocated by the President and who have responded most liberally in the various money raising campaigns naturally feel insulted that the President should call upon the people of the United States to return only the Democrats to public office. Thousands upon thousands of these men have been making sacrifices equal and in many cases exceeding those of their Democratic fellow citizens and it is generally felt that there was no call at this time for such action, especially in view of the fact that many of the President's most far reaching war measures were advocated and made laws by the help and at the insistence of Republican congressmen.

While Mr. Wilson's appeal applied to Congress rather than to any other offices the effect of the appeal, if it has any effect, will be to hinder the election of Republicans to state offices, as well as to Congress. The appeal was, in effect, an appeal to the people to vote a straight Democratic ticket regardless of whose names were thereon. Such a course would not be possible with the majority of the Pennsylvania Democrats because in so doing they must vote for Bonniwell as governor.

Republican leaders look upon the President's appeal as being one of the big factors that will result in an overwhelming Republican vote at the polls next Tuesday. Republicans believe in their candidates and are rallying are among the sufferers.

Winburre has created a local board of health, established a quarantine and curfew and is taking every possible means to guard against a possible outbreak there. They have but one or two cases in the town.

The situation remains satisfactory at Woodland.

AUSTRIANS EVACUATING
FROM ALL ITALIAN SOILGERMANY'S CHIEF ALLY HASTENS WITHDRAWAL IN ANTICIPATION OF ARMISTICE SHE SEEKS

45,000 OF HER MEN CAPTURED

Austria quickened its step in anticipation of an armistice today while Allied forces on all fronts were hammering its armies to bits. Austria is evacuating all of the Italian soil she now holds.

"In view of our oft expressed resolution to bring about a conclusion of an armistice and peace, our troops fighting on Italian soil are evacuating occupied regions," the Vienna dispatch said.

Another dispatch from Vienna via Milan, Italy, says "that the Polish government at Warsaw has been advised that Austria notified the military and civil authorities that Poland is entirely in the hands of the Poles." Austrian troops will be withdrawn at once, it was stated.

Czech revolutionists are reported to have cut the railway between Berlin and Vienna via Orderburg and Bodenbach. Communications between Agram, Budapest, Fiume and Vienna have been severed, it was said.

LONDON, 2:10 p. m.—The Italians have extended their offensive along the whole Austro-Italian front according to cables received here this afternoon. Prisoners exceeded 45,000 and big guns captured number 300.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Anarchy is growing in Hungary according to reports received from various sources today. The populace of Barcz is fleeing into the interior fearing a clash between the Croats and the Hungarians. Thousands of deserters are rampant along the frontier, plundering, attacking trains and committing other outrages.

ALLIES NEAR GHENT

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN THE FIELD, Oct. 31.—French and British forces this morning were within sight of Ghent. The Allies were last reported 4 miles from Ghent which is the principal Belgian railway base remaining in German hands west of Brussels and Antwerp.

ANOTHER CLEARFIELD
BOY "GONE WEST"
CO. SUPERINTENDENT
WEISGARBER DIES
OF PNEUMONIA

Another sturdy son of old Clearfield has been called upon to make the supreme sacrifice for his country and laid down his life facing the foe gloriously in action at the head of his platoon of machine gunners. This latest Clearfield patriot was Sergeant Hayes Wilson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wilson, of Sixth street. He enlisted in the Boal Machine Gun company about the time of the declaration of war and received his training with the Keystone division at Augusta, Georgia. He went to France as a member of Co. A 107th Machine Gun Regiment.

News of the death of this fine young soldier was received in Clearfield yesterday in a letter to home folks by Walter Barratt, who was with him when he was killed.

In his letter Barratt says "I suppose Hayes Wilson's parents have heard by this time of Hayes' death. On the morning of October 1st we were ordered out to stop a Hun counter attack and a few minutes after getting into action Hayes was killed while leading his platoon in the battle."

Hayes Wilson was born and raised in Clearfield and was about 25 years of age. He was a fine young man of genial disposition and numbered all who knew him as his friends. His family have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their time of sorrow.

He is the second member of the Eik-Hoe company to die in the service.

County Superintendent C. A. Weisgarber died last night at the emergency hospital of pneumonia following an attack of influenza. Prof. Weisgarber was taken down about two weeks ago and after being taken to the emergency hospital appeared to improve for a time and it was intended to let him return home Monday last. During the day he took a turn for the worse, pneumonia developed and he remained in a serious condition from that time up until death occurred last night. Prof. Weisgarber was a Brady township boy and was about 40 years of age. He was a graduate of Lock Haven Normal and a highly successful school teacher in Clearfield county for a number of years.

In 1914 he was elected county superintendent of schools to succeed Prof. W. E. Tobias and made an enviable record in the office. He was re-elected for a four year term in May last.

He is survived by his widow and two small children.

The late Czar of Russia had a dragon tattooed on his left forearm, and quite a number of other European royalties, both past and present, have been similarly "decorated."

In olden times, when men kissed, each took hold of the other's hand during the operation.

PROCLAMATION

As a means of arousing our citizens to the magnitude of the fire waste and showing their individual responsibility, and inducing them to take more interest in the subject of Fire Prevention, I do designate and set aside

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

GIVEN under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the City of Harrisburg, this sixteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and forty-third.

By the Governor: MARTIN
CYRUS E. WOODS,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

ARRIVED OVERSEAS

Mrs. Harry Riddle has been advised that her son Joseph has arrived at Escas.

Charles Riddle, a second son of Mrs. Riddle, who was commissioned a second lieutenant on August 31st last is confined to the hospital at Fort Bliss, Texas. He is suffering from a fractured shoulder and other injuries the result of his horse falling on him.

The apartment at No. 10 Downing street where the meetings of the British Cabinet are held is a solid and plainly furnished room, 50 feet long and 20 feet wide, fitted with double doors through which no sound can reach the keenest listening ears.

A REPUBLICAN CONGRESS A WAR NECESSITY

Democratic party leaders, both in action and frame of mind were totally and criminally unprepared for the great war which inevitably was to come upon the United States. The warnings of the Republican leaders were answered by Woodrow Wilson himself in his message to Congress of December 8th, 1914, as follows:

"More than this (unpreparedness for national defense) "proposed at this time, permit me to say, would mean merely that we had lost our self-possession; that we had been thrown off our balance by a WAR WITH THICH WE HAVE NOTHING TO DO, WHOSE CAUSE CANNOT TOUCH US, whose very existence gives us opportunities for friendship and disinterested service which should make impossible to us any hostile preparation for trouble."

Later they professed their mistake, begged of the American people to be for it. They appealed to the American for unheard of sums of money with which to rush a military preparation which would keep us safe from the beastly Hun. This acknowledgment of error was made by Vice President Marshall four years later, September 1918, as follows:

"I came here partly to make an apology, apology for my attitude during almost two years and a half of that fateful conflict, an apology from a God-fearing man in the twentieth century of civilization could have dreamed that any nation, people or any man could be neutral when it was fighting with wrong."

FACTS

Showing the Absolute Necessity of Electing a Republican Congress To Take Care of Both Present and Future Conditions

"Republicans have supported and will support President Wilson in every proposal looking to the successful prosecution of the war and an early and conclusive victory, with the least possible expenditure of lives and money.

"Every criticism of the war program, executive as well as legislative, that Republicans have uttered, and every proposal they have made affecting the conduct of the war, has been inspired by the thought of saving men and resources.

"Rejection of Republican proposals urging greater preparedness for war have prolonged the present struggle: A sterner course following the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine, especially in the diplomatic correspondence following that crime against America and all humanity would have shortened the war.

"Lack of preparedness and consequent haste necessary to enlarge the army and navy, plus Democratic inefficiency, emphasis on legislative leadership, have made waste and extravagance inevitable, all of which is proven by evidence.

"The vast resources of America, which have turned the tide of war toward America and her allies, were built up under Republican administration. Republican principles therefore will insure the improvement and maintenance of these resources when the coming problem of reconstruction is confronted.

"A Democratic Congress will not meet these reconstruction problems at the logical time---in advance. A Republican Congress will do this, and is better equipped than a Democratic Congress for the task."

For Burning Eczema

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted.

From any drugstore for 35c, or $1.00 for extra large size, get a bottle of zemo.

When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is clean, dependable and inexpensive, penetrating, antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

GREAT AMERICAN NAVAL GUN TAKEN FROM SHIP TO GET THE HUN

This is a great American naval gun taken from an American battleship in foreign waters to be sent to the front line, mounted on flat cars to drive the Hun back to the Rhine. Many of these guns are now in use. Since the Hun navy won't fight in the open sea the guns are being moved to the land, where they may be reached.

Contents

Cartons may be filled with any combination of articles not barred by postoffice regulations.

Postage

Sufficient stamps to carry the parcel to Hoboken, N. J., at fourth class or parcel post zone rate.

Inspection

Every box must be inspected by the Red Cross committee and the Red Cross inspection label must be placed on each parcel.

Weight

The parcel unwrapped must not weigh more than two pounds, fifteen ounces. If it weighs more than that, some article must be removed.

Label

No Christmas parcel may be sent except under a Christmas Parcel label, received from a soldier overseas, bearing the name of the man to whom it is to be sent.

Time Limit

No Christmas parcels can be mailed later than November 20th.

The Red Cross does not supply the Christmas Parcel label, that is done by the War Department. The Red Cross does not distribute the labels, that is done by the Postoffice Department. The Red Cross furnishes the boxes, inspects their contents and delivers them to the Postoffice.

J. FRANK SNYDER, Chairman.

OBITUARY

Raymond Austin Derrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Derrick, of Weaver street, died of pneumonia following an attack of influenza, at the emergency hospital on Monday, October 28, 1918, at noon in the 17th year of his age. He was a sturdy, industrious young man who made friends of all with whom he came in contact. His death was a sad blow to his family and friends.

He is survived by his parents, three brothers and three sisters, all residing in Clearfield. Funeral services conducted by Rev. Snively of the West Side M. E. church, were held at his father's home Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment at Mt. Joy.

SPEAKING OF MEAN SUCKERS

Pennsylvania's meanest man is employed by the United States Federal Express company along the Pennsylvania railroad between Philadelphia and Clearfield. The Vulcan Trading Company contributed two boxes of oranges to the emergency hospital's influenza patients and the much-desired fruit arrived in Clearfield yesterday. W. J. Usher, of the Vulcan Trading Co., looked the fruit over upon its arrival and we would like very much to print what Bill said when he discovered that some low-down, chicken-livered son-of-a-gun had robbed the suffering of the fruit they craved by stealing at least one-fourth of the contents of one box. Regulations and regulations in the postal service these days and we can't print what we would like to but Bill will tell it to you. And we are only too sorry he can't locate the low-down thief to tell it to him.

OUR
WALLACETON

Our little town has been very fortunate in the flu epidemic. We have had a few cases but none of them have proven fatal. We sympathize with our neighboring towns who have a siege of this disease.

Election day is drawing near when we can pick our choice of candidates.

William Bigler of Clearfield, district superintendent over our town's brick works had business here Monday.

Miss Vivian Shimmel is a new addition on the clerical force of C. I. Wolfe's general merchandise store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Washburn, of Munson, motored to our city Sunday.

Harvey Fetzner has moved his family here from Blue Ball.

Jacob Duck has moved his family here from Morrisdale. He is employed at the H. W. Ref. Co. brick works.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Woods, of Ronoke, Va., Mrs. W. A. Bennett and Samuel Smith, of Jersey Shore were recent visitors to our city.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bottorf and sons of Surveyor motored up here on Sunday.

House cleaning and the beating of carpets is on the hum.

Wesley Little of Blue Ball autoed through our city on Wednesday.

The epidemic of Spanish flu has struck our little town. The families of John and Alex Quick, E. K. Good, Wilson Good, James Shaw, Thomas Hollabaugh and a few others have been sick from attacks of this malady. In some cases the entire families have been sick, but no deaths have resulted so far. The patients are receiving medical attention from Drs. Woodside, of Bigler, Mauk, Shively and Faulkner, of Woodland, Buzard, of Munson and Dale, of Philipsburg. We learn all of the sick are slowly convalescing.

MUST AMUSE SOLDIERS

Clean, high class entertainment has recently come to be regarded as a necessity for the man with the colors. It keeps him amused and entertained in his leisure hours—a dangerous period between the hour of the day when he has had his "taps"—and away from the conditions that might tend to undermine his morals or his physical strength. It also keeps his morale up to a government and in this belief the Red Triangle the task of amusement and entertaining the man in uniform as well as ministering to his spiritual needs when he makes

The monthly "turn-over" of this booking office is 800 motion picture renters, 200 religious speakers, 125 entertainers and seventy-five lecturers. Richard H. Edwards, Secretary of Activities and Walter W. Berry, Business Manager, are the

The office keeps a record of every speaker booked. The camp secretaries report to the camp headquarters on the quality of each address, lecture or sermon and whether the boys were satisfied with it or not. The "talent" also reports on the camp service being done there and on the audience which heard their programs. The secretaries' activities then picks out of the reports what the other person should now send it to him. It has been ascertained that lecturers and speakers are eager to learn what they can do to make the boys better and welcome suggestions from the camp secretaries.

An especially interesting feature of the work is booking entertainers, for the warships that arrive in port. The boys get the date from the Navy Department the date when a warship will arrive and then before it anchors, entertain-
